

Product selection with the golden touch!

Quicker specifying with SmartSelect.

What is SmartSelect?

SmartSelect is your tool for the professional specification of lifting stations, grease separators and floor drains. Discover the added value of our free of charge specification tool at www.smartselect.kessel.com.

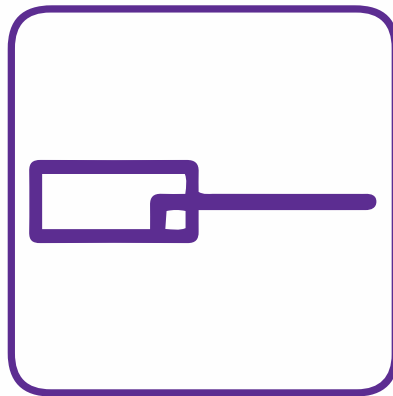

And this is how it works:

Here is a brief description of the basic SmartSelect functions so that you can get started. While using SmartSelect, helpful 'hint' boxes automatically open to properly guide you through the specification process.

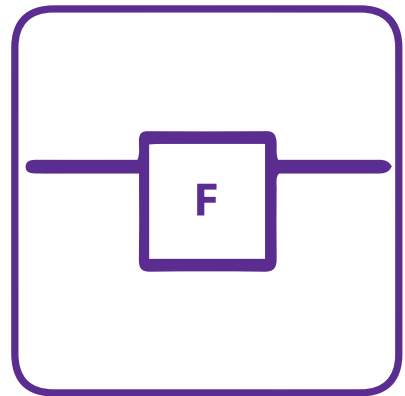

Three systems, specification made easy.

Lifting / pumping station calculation module

Configurator for alternative compound seal (drains)

Grease separator calculation module

Choose between the SmartSelect specification program for lifting stations, grease separators or floor drains.

File and track all of your projects electronically.

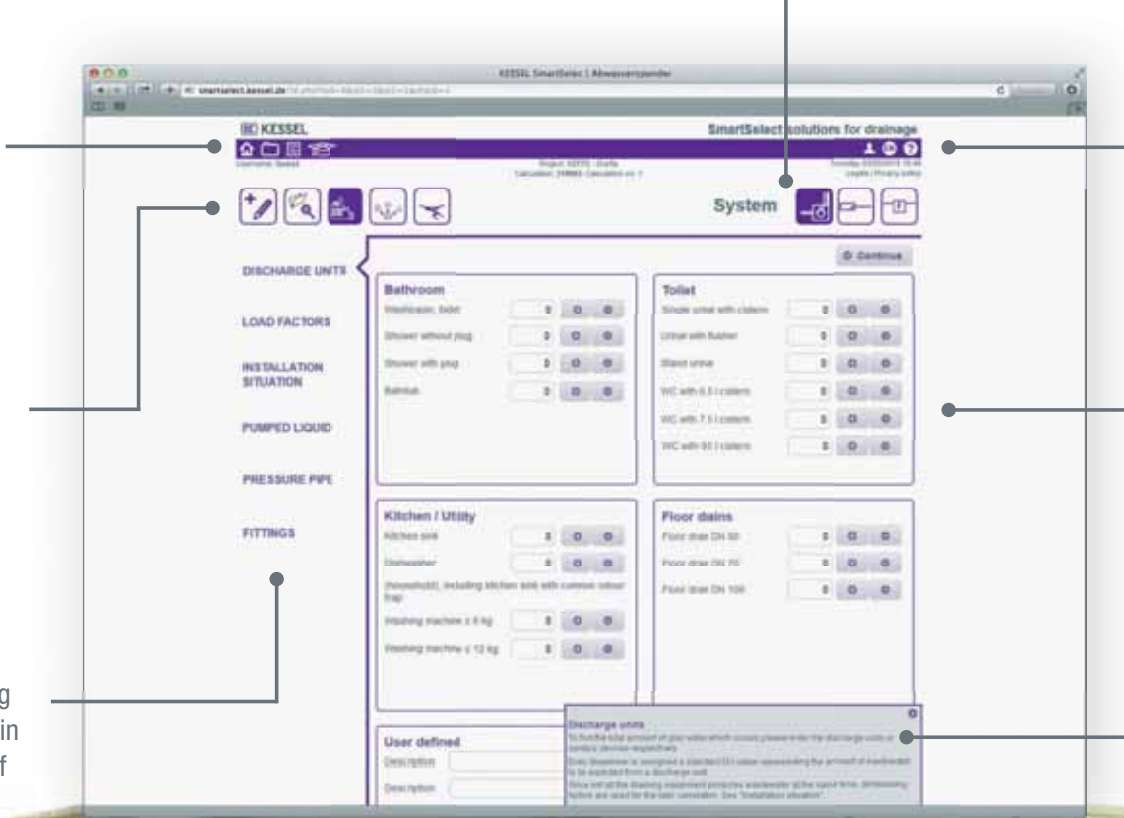

Change the program language, the user account or activate the help function.

The navigation menu allows you to jump directly to the desired specification step.

Clear step by step questions with illustrations guide you through all the required inputs required for your specific project.

Required information for your project is entered in multiple steps, beginning with the number of drainage fixtures in a building and ending with the type of fittings and pressure pipe used.

The help function describes the current specification step and delivers valuable information.

Designed for efficiency.

When we developed SmartSelect we asked ourselves, what does a specification software need to offer in order to easily support the specifying engineer on a day to day basis. The result is:

Fast.

A few mouse clicks away from the professional solution.

Easy.

Clear and intuitive use.

Well thought out.

Considers all on-site requirement and provides the optimal solution.

Practical.

Efficient tracking and organizing of multiple projects.

The professional product specification program at www.smartselect.com.

KESSEL AG

Bahnhofstraße 31 • 85101 Lenting • Germany

www.kessel.com

To find a sales partner near you, visit the KESSEL website:

www.kessel.com/contact

www.smartselect.kessel.com

